Hi Ken,

Thanks for your letter and your work to have the dead growth removed from the pond. It looks much better.

Hopefully, with the regular application of chemicals, we can keep it clean and usable for the community.

The chemicals I was using are called Aquacide. You can check their web site at Aquacide.com.

Here's a link directly to the pellets: <https://www.killlakesweeds.com/products/aquacide-pellets>

I had been using five 10 pound bags, 3 in the spring and 2 mid-summer. They have raised the price on those to $99 per bag. But they've also added a 50 pound bag for $359. That would be the better way to go. So for $359/ year, that would seem to be a pretty cheap way to keep the growth controlled. I believe they also have free shipping. You are welcome to ship them directly to my address if that would be easier.

If you have any questions, please let me know. And as I mentioned, I will be happy to apply the pellets as needed each year.

Best regards,

Robert
